Today, problems with the life and maturity of young people to raise the same sense of responsibility in all, a new goal for oneself and it has become one of the important factors in determining plans. The profile of offenses also plays an important role in ensuring the development and tranquility of the country.

After all, this activity includes the implementation of a set of interrelated activities carried out by bodies and institutions directly related to the Prevention of violations, in order to ensure and strengthen the legality, identify and prevent violations, as well as identify and eliminate the causes of committing violations and the conditions under which they occur.

First of all, this is due to the fact that almost all countries of the world, including Uzbekistan, having implemented the necessary measures in this direction, seek to achieve the following noble goal. It is also to ensure legitimacy in society, in turn, the well-being of every citizen and the population as a whole.

At the moment, the offenses committed by minors are of concern to everyone. One of the most urgent and socially significant tasks facing our society is to reduce the number of offenses committed by these minors and find ways to increase the effectiveness of their socio-psychological adaptation.

Of course, the criminalization of minors is dangerous for society, since this situation threatens the future of young people. Social attitudes, bad ill-mannered habits that arise from a young age, lead to a deep moral violation of the personality, as a result of which there is an increase in the number of crimes and offenses.

Today, there are many opportunities for the spiritual and physical development of the younger generation, namely, music and art schools, theater Studios, stadiums. But it happens that O'spirin always spends his free time not for his own benefit, but on the contrary, he spends it at his own loss.

It is known that Capricorn is one of the most active periods in the life of every person. Jismonan mature, a grown-up person who feels the flow of power, often seems to him that he can do everything and is capable of much at the moment. However, the lack of life experience, not knowing the laws, as well as not being able to behave very often and not being able to report on one's own behavior, can lead to sad consequences.

Ospirins often do not adequately assess not only themselves, but also their actions. Among the minors, the main reasons for the crime are that they often do not understand the severity of the crime, and illegal behavior is similar to dangerous and exciting games.

It seems that the choice is quite large, but in fact the main option is two. Law-abiding citizens choose a healthy, safe and happy life, while law — abiding citizens-choose there an irregular life in which the strongest prevail, where chaos and anarchy reign. We must understand that the lower the crime rate, the richer the society. The richer the society, the higher the level of culture of its citizens, the less the causes of the emergence of crime in this society.

The fight against violations includes two main areas:

prevention of the occurrence of violations;

consistent implementation of legal responsibility for previously committed offenses.

But the most important thing is to make the maximum effort to prevent the implementation of the second direction and avoid violations. Therefore, in modern conditions, all means are available. It is necessary to use all opportunities to prevent illegal behavior of citizens.

In this direction, the state carries out certain efforts, the main ones of which are and are of great importance today are the five initiatives put forward by the president of Uzbekistan, increasing the quality of education, ensuring full coverage of children, ensuring their employment, cultural and entertainment activities, carrying out various profilactics and educational activities in which the problems of juvenile offenses are discussed, , explain how to solve any situations you need.

The president has repeatedly stressed that "one crime is also a crime" and "everyone should be concerned that one is a crime, even if it is one." True, everyone chooses his own way of life, but it does not mean that the rest should be indifferent if he is wrong.

In addition, at an expanded meeting of the collegium of the Ministry of internal affairs of the Republic of Uzbekistan on February 12, this year, the president of our country paid special attention to the fight against crime at the neighborhood level, reducing the volume of work and increasing the efficiency of the activities of profilactics. This will help to organize the right work for the intended purpose, including the Prevention of violations.

At the same time, it is possible to prevent violations among minors, if the family and close environment are involved in the work of profiling. It is necessary to teach the child from childhood to the rules of life in society. Even the little ones should know that it is impossible to carry, spoil or take other things without permission.

It also seems necessary to draw the attention of children to responsible behavior, the need to be responsible for their actions. In order to correct your mistakes, it is also important to show a positive result from the desire to show the possibility of correcting the mistakes made. Most importantly, you need to show your children a positive example of yourself. After all, no matter what we teach them, they act like us.

In order to educate young people spiritually, comprehensively and spiritually, it is necessary to popularize reading, to fall in love with the book. Reading from ancient times played an important and indispensable role in the upbringing of a person, revealing his individual characteristics, and also served as an important factor in its formation. In this regard, in the modern world, reading should take a special place first of all in the system of continuous education, including in the daily activities of everyone.

Alternatively, military-patriotism and other types of activities can serve as another dimension in the field of profilactics. We believe that all power structures and law enforcement agencies have significantly accelerated their work in the implementation of various activities in direct places, schools, higher and secondary special educational institutions, orphanages, neighborhoods.

It should be noted that the essence and meaning of such activities are primarily aimed at the formation of the ome, as well as the necessary vital knowledge, skills, abilities and willpower of young people, high moral and moral qualities in young people and, most importantly, love and loyalty to their homeland.

Thus, the formation of the directions of values as the most active part of society of the population, especially young people, in modern conditions, is one of the main problems, goals and directions of youth policy. Therefore, in any society and state, the directions of values of an individual, youth are an educational object, and the process of their upbringing is an important direction of youth policy for the implementation of moral and moral, patriotic and labor education.

In this regard, the Prevention of violations remains an important direction, through the implementation of various effective measures, including measures of military-patriotic character. In the future, this will allow them to form a strong, correct life position and appropriate immunity from various IoT ideas, and will protect minors from any illegal actions.
