Annotation: We will talk about the famous writer Tahir Malik and his works. As far as know, one of the most famous works of Tahir Malik is “Property of Humanity”, which is a part of the work “What makes the heart darken”. It is safe to say that this play is about evil, anger, rage, wickedness, blackness of heart, and so on, and many other good qualities against them, such as goodness, kindness, and goodwill. In this play, the writer has skillfully portrayed two good and bad traits together that it is impossible to say an opinion against him. The author has brought different destinies and different worldviews into one story in this book, and it can be said that he has explained very beautiful and touching stories for the reader and the punishment for those who do evil as a result with suras in the Qur’an. We can say that the work not only imparts secular knowledge but also enhances our religious knowledge.

Key words: Oppression, tyranny, darkness, evil, heart

People’s writer of Uzbekistan Tahir Malik is considered by many to be a master of detective stories. But he is also known for his didactic and educational works. In this regard, the writer’s uncle, another brilliant Uzbek writer Mirzakalon Ismaili, is a follower of the style. I want to talk about “Human Property” Tohir was awarded “Uzbekistan’s national writer” in 2000 by the edict of first President Islam Karimov. “Human Property”

Even after the publication of the pamphlet “Human Property”, the author did not stop creative work on this topic. Research is underway to further enrich the work with commentaries on verses, glorious hadiths, and the wisdom of stages. This book in your hands is the fruit of that work.

You can hear such words over and over again as evil, oppression and various other districts. We have heard many of these words in our daily life, and of course we know what they mean. Our famous and sharp pen owner Tohir Malik also pays special attention to these words. We can even say with confidence that he wrote a book about this evil.

While reading this book, many aspects of humanity can be a vivid illustration of the of the flaws that human being sometimes unknowingly get into. We can read a lot of touching stories in this play.

In this play, we can see that evil awaits severe punishment not only in this world but also in this Hereafter. If we pay attention to this title of this book, we can almost understand what this work about, but as one enters into this book, one continues to educate oneself. He tries not to repeat the action of the negative heroes.

Despite the fact that the book “What makes the heart dark” by our famous writer Tahir Malik is a part of “Property of Humanity”, we can consider it a separate book, because from each of them one can draw a lot of conclusions.

In this play, we can see that the author used not only his own words but also some surahs from our great book, KUR’AN, and various exemplary hadiths.
