Today, reforms in our country are carried out in accordance with the various changes taking place in the world, including the global economy. The path we have chosen is showing its stability and viability in the conditions of a slowdown in the development of the world economy after the global crisis.

It is known that large-scale democratic changes are taking place in our country over the next five years. The concept of "New Uzbekistan" is becoming a reality.

First of all, it should be said that any people, any nation, which sets itself the great goal of establishing a free and free life and a just society in its country, will go through a difficult, difficult and complicated path of development.

Undoubtedly, during the years of independence, historical works were carried out in the way of building a new state and society in our country. In a historically short period of time, the Constitution of our country - our Basic Law was developed and adopted. As a sovereign country, our country has taken a worthy place in the world community. The foundations of modern statehood were created in Uzbekistan and the foundation of the constitutional system was laid. Three independent branches of state power - legislative, executive and judicial authorities were established. A constitutional state was established in the literal sense.

Armed Forces capable of reliably protecting the sovereignty and state independence of the Republic of Uzbekistan, the inviolability of our borders, the peaceful life of our people and our national interests have been established. Our national currency - the soum - was introduced and our gold and currency reserves were formed. Our ancient history, rich cultural heritage, national-religious values and identity have been restored. I am lucky to be able to take an active part in such unforgettable historical processes.

It must be said openly that along with the great achievements in independent development, our path was not free from some mistakes and shortcomings. The processes aimed at abandoning the authoritarian system and establishing a democratic society, the complex and dangerous period itself has put various problems and tasks in front of us. There were cases where our knowledge and experience, will and determination were sometimes not enough to solve them successfully.

Therefore, raising the development of our country to a new, high level and for this, implementing new reforms has become an objective necessity and the most important strategic task.

New schools, theaters, libraries and museums, newspapers and magazines established by the moderns, charitable societies formed to send children of Turkestan to study abroad, awakened our people from centuries of heedlessness and gave incomparable strength to the movement of national liberation. Unfortunately, the establishment of the Bolshevik dictatorship in our country and the continuation of the tsarist colonial policy in a new form did not allow our enlightened forefathers to fully realize their goals. But if we say that their noble dreams have been preserved in the blood and historical memory of our people and are still alive, we will be telling the truth.

In this sense, at the core of the idea of "New Uzbekistan", which is deeply rooted in the hearts of our people today and is becoming a nationwide movement, are our great ancestors, in general, our great grandfathers who founded the First and Second Renaissance periods in our national history. We will not be mistaken if we say that his desires and dreams are embodied.

The history of mankind shows that the processes of spiritual awakening in the life of any nation lead to the realization of national identity and raise the country's economic and cultural development to a new level. It is clear to all of us that such a unique social event is called "Renaissance" - revival, rise.

Currently, another important process of renaissance is taking place in our country. That is why the words "New Uzbekistan" and "Third Renaissance" sound harmoniously and harmoniously in our lives, inspiring our people towards great goals. Today, Uzbekistan is becoming a country of democratic changes, broad opportunities and practical work. This process is the biggest result of our reforms for me. Because the clarity of the goal is the most important criterion that ensures the effectiveness of actions. If we summarize the main content of the Strategy of Actions adopted six years ago, in this unique document we set ourselves the great strategic goals of building a New Uzbekistan and creating the foundations of the Third Renaissance.

It should be noted that the establishment of New Uzbekistan is not just a desire, a subjective phenomenon, but a fundamental historical basis of the existing political-legal, socio-economic, spiritual-educational situation in our country. It is an objective necessity that meets the age-old aspirations of our people and fully meets its national interests.

New Uzbekistan - developing on the basis of the principles of friendly cooperation with the world community, strictly following the universally recognized norms and principles of democracy, human rights and freedoms, the ultimate goal of which is to create a free, prosperous and prosperous life for our people is a state that.

I don't want to talk about the results we have achieved due to the reforms in the past historically short period. Opinions of influential state and political figures, experts and analysts are regularly published on this topic through the mass media of our country and abroad. Such unbiased assessments make us all happy. At the same time, I would like to emphasize that we are not making these democratic changes to please someone, to brag, to get different ratings, on the contrary, because democratic processes are as necessary for us as water and air, our people, first of all, the life of our young generation and thinking about tomorrow's perspective, we are implementing it in the way of our national interests.

We must openly admit one fact: with the passage of time, the processes of reform are becoming more and more extensive, and the intense times are setting before us even greater tasks. Life itself teaches us many things. That's why we're always on the lookout. Where there is research, it is natural that along with achievements, there will also be shortcomings and defects.

Now it's all about resolutely continuing the path of reforms and bringing them to their logical conclusion. It's definitely not easy, but we can do it. Importantly, in the following years, a sufficient political-legal, socio-economic, organizational-institutional basis was created for the implementation of such a huge and complex task.

I am sure that we will use all our knowledge, experience and intelligence to make a holy flag of our boundless love and loyalty to our dear Motherland and we will definitely achieve our noble goals.

New Uzbekistan will become a prosperous and prosperous country in all respects, with strong potential, decent prestige in the world arena. Ancient history shows that it is never easy to innovate in this life, to change the old patterns and patterns that most people have learned and become accustomed to. Whether we like it or not, such a movement is always faced with overt or hidden obstacles. In particular, the issue of awakening the people, bringing a new life-giving breath to sleepy souls, and completely renewing the state and society management requires greater responsibility, courage and wisdom from the leader who has undertaken the great mission of entering the arena as a reformer.

The conclusion is that such reforms and social renewals that are taking place rapidly in Uzbekistan today are evidence of the spirit of renaissance in the country. The Third Renaissance is not a matter of distant perspective. It is a real reality that is constantly being developed in every aspect of our society today, at this time. We are confident that these reforms, which have started in our country, will continue consistently and will be a solid foundation for building a great country and a prosperous future that our people dream of.
